

How Utilities Are Deploying Data Analytics Now

Forward-thinking executives are already using new sources of data to generate insights and create value.

By Christophe Guille and Stephan Zech

Christophe Guille is a manager with Bain & Company in San Francisco, and Stephan Zech is a partner in Bain's Los Angeles office. Both work with Bain's Global Utilities practice.

Shared Ambition, True Results

Bain & Company is the management consulting firm that the world's business leaders come to when they want results.

Bain advises clients on strategy, operations, technology, organization, private equity and mergers and acquisitions. We develop practical, customized insights that clients act on and transfer skills that make change stick. Founded in 1973, Bain has 53 offices in 34 countries, and our deep expertise and client roster cross every industry and economic sector. Our clients have outperformed the stock market 4 to 1.

What sets us apart

We believe a consulting firm should be more than an adviser. So we put ourselves in our clients' shoes, selling outcomes, not projects. We align our incentives with our clients' by linking our fees to their results and collaborate to unlock the full potential of their business. Our Results Delivery® process builds our clients' capabilities, and our True North values mean we do the right thing for our clients, people and communities—always.
